

THE PARABLE OF UNPROFITABLE SERVANTS

Reference: Luke 17:7-10

Pastor Larry Webb

This parable is most often called the parable of the “unprofitable servants.” That description “unprofitable” doesn’t means useless servants but means servants that don’t deserve _____.

The term that is translated as servant in this parable, is the Greek word “doulos;” meaning “_____.”

Numerous biblical authors identified themselves as ‘doulos’

Reference: James 1:1; Revelation 1:1; Romans 1:1, etc. (see screen)

- the servant represents the _____.
- the slave owner/master represents _____.

The BIG IDEA of this parable is that a servant shouldn’t expect something special for doing what was he was responsible to do. In a similar sense, as Christian servants (Doulos), we are not to think that our obedience to Jesus is in any sense meritorious or deserving of recognition.

Webster defines duty as “that which a person is bound by any _____ or _____ obligation to pay or to do.

Ezekiel was an example of an Old Testament prophet who was committed to doing his duty.

Reference: Ezekiel 3:16-19 (see screen)

Reference: Ezekiel 24:15-18 (see screen)

Conclusion: Sometimes we have to substitute _____ for _____ as our _____, and do what we’re supposed to do because it is our _____!

THE PARABLE OF UNPROFITABLE SERVANTS

Reference: Luke 17:7-10

Pastor Larry Webb

This parable is most often called the parable of the “unprofitable servants.” That description “unprofitable” doesn’t means useless servants but means servants that don’t deserve _____.

The term that is translated as servant in this parable, is the Greek word “doulos;” meaning “_____.”

Numerous biblical authors identified themselves as ‘doulos’

Reference: James 1:1; Revelation 1:1; Romans 1:1, etc. (see screen)

- the servant represents the _____.
- the slave owner/master represents _____.

The BIG IDEA of this parable is that a servant shouldn’t expect something special for doing what was he was responsible to do. In a similar sense, as Christian servants (Doulos), we are not to think that our obedience to Jesus is in any sense meritorious or deserving of recognition.

Webster defines duty as “that which a person is bound by any _____ or _____ obligation to pay or to do.

Ezekiel was an example of an Old Testament prophet who was committed to doing his duty.

Reference: Ezekiel 3:16-19 (see screen)

Reference: Ezekiel 24:15-18 (see screen)

Conclusion: Sometimes we have to substitute _____ for _____ as our _____, and do what we’re supposed to do because it is our _____!